

TEAMBUILDING IN VR

Looking for better connection in your globally dispersed team?
Team-building budgets tougher to find?

Your team no longer needs to take a day off for team building. No need to travel across locations and book resorts for one day's activity. Just put on your VR headsets for one hour of every workday (or spread it across weeks) and meet on our Edstutia campus. Play a game of cards in our main hall, role-play in our boardroom, or dare to visit our VR Escape Room!

What Former Participants Are Saying

- "I enjoyed both the social experience and learning environment of VR. Giving an avatar a high five is one example of the human connection made and just a glimpse into the promise of VR for teams."
